official appointees, reports to the Postoffice Department that the mail service is satisfactorily performed. Like most officials, he says it is, we suppose, for pure cussedness, just because it is not.
The condition of the route to this place, between Palisade and Eureka, is most unsatisfactory. Somebody got a contract for that service at a price that would scarcely buy harnessfor his horses and keep it in repair, and the result is that thousands of people in Eureka, Hamilton and Pioche are inconvenienced, annoyed and suffer loss just because the mail lettings are conducted in an absurd and ridiculous fashion, that would be a disgrace to any business-house and would disgrace the Washington officials if they were not too far gone for anything to have an effect upon them.
No doubt they care very little about the convenience of communities living in an outlandish sagebrush country, but that very carelessness shows how unfit they are for their positions. We plead guilty to speaking a little out of temper, but one cannot help it in view of the annoyances caused by a parcel of red-tape gumps who ought to be driving an or team instead of filling positions at the national capital.

UNLUCKY UPSET.—Yesterday a teamster who had just reached town with a hage prairie schooner loaded with coal oil for Ph. Felsenthal, was going up the hill to the store-house of the latter, when by some mischance the wagon upset, and there was a fearful smash of coal oil caus, and an equally fearful waste of their contents. It did seem the essence of bad luck, that after safely completing a long and tiresome journey to within fifty yards of his destination, that the unfortunate teamster should meet with a mishap of this character, which will most probably turn his trip into a loss instead of a profit. The wagon was soon tighted, but tor a while a rivulet meandered pensively along the parched and UNLUCKY UPSET.-Yesterday a teams-

In regard to the character of the coun-In regard to the character of the country enclosed by the Black Hills, I can only repeat what I have stated in previous dispatches. No portion can boast a richer or better pasturage, purer water (the natural temperature of which in Summer, as it flows from the earth, is but twelve degrees above the freezing point) or greater advantages generally to the farmer and stock raiser than are to be found in the Black Hills. Building stone of the best quality is found in inexhaustible quantities, and wood for fuel and lumber in abundance. Rains are frequent, with no evidence in the country of either drought or freshet. The season is perhaps too short and the nights too cool for corn, but I believe all other grains could be produced here in abundance. Wheat would particularly yield largely. There is no doubt as to the existence of various minerals throughters the hills. abundance. Wheat would particularly yield largely. There is no doubt as to the existence of various minerals throughout the hills. This subject has received the especial attention of experts who accompany the expedition, and will be reported upon in detail. I will also mention the fact that iron and plumbago have been found, and beds of gypsum apparently inexhaustible. I referred in a former dispatch to the discovery of gold. Subsequent examinations at numerous points confirm and strengthen the fact of the existence of gold in the Black Hills. On some of the water courses almost every panful of earth produced gold, in small, yet paying quantities. Our brief halts and rapid marked sprevented anything but very hasty examinations of the country in this respect, but in one place—the only one within my knowledge where so great a depth was reached—a hole was dug eight feet deep. The miners report that they found gold among the roots of the grass, and from that point to the lowest point reached gold was found in paying quantities. It has not required experts to find gold in the Black Hills, as men without any former experince in mining discover it, at an expense of little time discoverity, at an expense of little time discoverity at an expense of little time discoverity at an expense of little time discoverity at a se

ACCIDENT AT THE MEADOW VALLAY...

Soon afterwards the shift was changed, and the men coming on soon discovered that something was wrong and went down to the winze. On reaching the bottom all three men were found insensible. The alarm was given, and medical assistance sent for. The men were raised first to the level and then to the surface, where Dr. Bergstein took active means to revive them. He was successful, but all three are still very sick, especially George Lovering, who was longer exposed to the deleterions gas than the others. The cause of the sudden asphyxiation of the miners, is supposed to be going down too soon after the explosion and before the noxious vapors of the giant powder had been allowed to dissipate.

On motion, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we recommend to the various Democratic and Liberal County Committees of the State of Nevada to appoint primary meetings for the election of delegates to the State and County Conventions in accordance with the above apportionment.

Resolved, That cheap transportation for both articles of consumption here and articles of production to be transported to markets, is actually necessary for the well-being and prosperity of the State, and that we favor the passage of a law by the next Legislature regulating the tariff of railroad freights and farse on reads in this State, preventing unjust discrimination, thus reducing the cost of living for our miners and laborers, and keeping the money amongst us in legitimate trade, instead of sending it into the vaulis of railroad companies.

Resolved, That we are in favor of taxing the property of railroad companies the same as other property and that the property of railroad companies the same as property of railroad companies the same as other property, and that the property or railroad companies should be assessed as near its actual each value as other property is now assessed. Besolved, That all voters who are in favor of
